VICTIM OF BAD LUCK

CORPORAL GRIST HAS FLU AND REGIMENT SAILS WITHOUT HIM

Mrs. Charles Grist of this city was astonished and dismayed to receive, Wednesday, a letter from her son, Corporal George Grist dated from a hospital at Newport News announcing his recuperation from a severe attack of influenza. She had supposed he left with his company and was now overseas. His letter read:

Dear Folks:

I have been here since a week ago last Saturday night with the "Flu." The regiment left a week ago last Sunday. Did you ever hear of anyone having such a time as I have in getting over there? I go with the next bunch but as soon as I get there I go to my own battery. I was awfully sick for a few days but am much better now. I tried to stay with the battery as long as I could but it was no use. It took five of the boys to carry me to the hospital and I didn't know much of anything for a week. I think I will be out in a couple of days more and be as good as ever except for being as thin as a rail."

Mrs. Grist says the presents she sent him to Camp Eustace, a fine fountain pen and other things he has not received and she is wiring him to send a tracer to Camp Eustace for them.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES FORBIDDEN

Building Inspector Chobe who is assisting Health Officer Chase in certain of his duties, reports that no Hallowe'en or other parties will be allowed, strict orders forbidding such festivities having been issued by the Department of Health. Any gathering which includes more than six persons, is prohibited and any such assembly is liable to be dispersed by the police. This order has been promulgated in connection with the campaign undertaken by the Board of Health to stamp out Spanish influenza, and Mr. Chobe declares it will be rigidly enforced. Mr. Chobe further says that the influenza epidemic in Glendale appears to be about stationary, neither increasing nor declining, but physicians are hoping it has reached the peak and that there will soon be evidence of a decided decline.

GUESTS FROM MEXICO AND HONOLULU

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Murchison who have been living at 132 Oak street are moving today to 426 Ivy street. They have just been joined by the mother and two sisters of Mrs. Murchison, viz: Mrs. I. C. Sarber and her daughter, Miss C. Sarber who after spending two years in Mexico City came to the coast and are taking the opportunity to visit Mrs. Murchison while another sister is with her, Miss I. Sarber who has just arrived from Honolulu. That they may have a larger house to accommodate this pleasant increase in their family they are making the change to Ivy street. Mr. Murchison is assistant director of the Hampton Production company, a branch of the Ince corporation.

READY FOR WORK

THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTMAS PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS TO OPEN HEADQUARTERS FRIDAY

Mrs. Bartlett, chairman of the Christmas package committee, reports that she and her associates on the committee, Mrs. A. M. Hunt and Mrs. Jack Boettner, will open tomorrow (Friday) at 9 o'clock the headquarters provided for the work two doors north of the postoffice on Brand boulevard, and that ladies will be in attendance throughout the day to wait on those who present labels entitling them to Christmas package cartons provided by the government.

The committee will be assisted from day to day by a corps of ladies, including the following: Mesdames A. W. Dow, H. Lee Clotworthy, H. E. Betz, Olin Spencer, William Bode, G. A. Whitaker, Everett Barnes, James Renshaw, W. E. Halstead, Frank Hester, C. E. Byrkit, Florence L. Wintersgill, Mrs. Williams, Miss Loie Hunt, Miss Myra Bartlett.

These ladies will take turns in assisting the committee as need arises and the volunteers who will assist on the opening day will be: Mesdames Dow, Bode, Betz and Clotworthy.

Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Marsh are moving from 422 Hawthorn street to 112 South Orange street.

WRITES TO HIS MOTHER

Mrs. Sawyer of 524½ Orange St. is in receipt of an illuminating letter from her son, High Private Malcolm Sawyer, now on the French front with Co. D. of the Telephone and Telegraph Corps 411. His letter which is dated September 21, 1918, reads:

Dear Mother:

We finally have a day of leisure so I am trying to catch up on letters. We have moved and have run into a lot of rainy weather. We are at the front. There was an interesting air battle the day we arrived here and the German was brought down all right.

We have been up around Montesee which has been held by the Germans since 1914 and there were many interesting tunnels and dugouts that we explored.

Of course, I do not know but I think this war is on its last legs and perhaps six months more will see the finish. I am sure I hope so. I am keeping all my adventures to tell you when I get home.

THE "LARK" TO STOP IN GLENDALE

A telephone message has been received from A. M. Mortensen of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange who resides at 1851 S. Brand Blvd., this city, that he has been advised that an order has just been issued by the Southern Pacific railroad to take effect immediately, for the "Lark" to pick up and discharge passengers on signal at the Glendale station in the Tropico district. Mr. Mortensen has been trying to bring it about for some time because he has such frequent occasion to use the "Lark" in business trips to San Francisco.

NEW MINISTER ARRIVED

The new minister for the West Glendale M. E. church is now settled in the parsonage, 320 South Pacific Avenue. He is Rev. W. W. Cookman, and he comes here from a Los Angeles charge. He is reputed a strong preacher and a good mixer and the Glendale church people may congratulate themselves on his appointment. A married daughter and her little son are here for a month and there is an unmarried daughter at home. Then there the two fine young sons in the service of their country. Rev. Cookman will find he has located in a splendid community and among a loyal, working people. We congratulate both minister and people.

TURKEY OUT OF WAR

ENGLAND HAS CONCLUDED AN ARMISTICE WHICH INCLUDES UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER OF TURKEY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 31.—British representatives at Saloniki at noon today concluded an armistice with Turkey, according to authoritative information received here today.

Paris sources have received the same information.

The terms include free passage for the Allies of the Dardenelles and other provisions preventing Turkey from resuming hostilities. It is understood that Turkey has offered to turn over all violators of the rules of civilized warfare for trial. This puts Turkey definitely out of the war.

The Dardenelles are reported to have been thrown open at 6:30 this morning.

It is understood that an armistice will include the unconditional surrender of the Turkish armies.

Turkish army groups in the Tigris region of Mesopotamia have surrendered to General Marshal, the British commander.

AUSTRIA TO EVACUATE ITALY AND POLAND

EMPIRE ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE, MAKES STRONG BID FOR AN ARMISTICE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 31.—Zurich dispatches today said the Czechs have cut all the railways between Berlin and Vienna via Oderberg and Bodenbach, and also between Agram, Buda Pesth, Fiume and Vienna.

The Austrian war office announced that on account of the possibility of an armistice Austria will evacuate all occupied Italian territory. It is believed this may also apply to Belgrade.

Milan dispatches said that Austria has notified Poland that she will evacuate all occupied Polish territory immediately and turn over the government to the Polish authorities.

Reports show anarchy is growing in Hungary.

Crowds are plundering Buda Pesth food and munitions stores and the population of Barcz Commune is fleeing to the interior fearing hostilities between the Croats and the Austrians.

Thousands of deserters from the Austrian army are plundering the frontier towns and committing outrages. Nazic is afire. Several castles have been destroyed.

GOOD PROGRESS ON ITALIAN FRONT

BRITISH OCCUPY ASIAGO AND HAVE EXTENDED BREACH IN AUSTRIAN LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, October 31.—The Italians have entered Sacilo and have reached the line of Fravalle, Ursago and Orderzo in the offensive against Austria.

The British have occupied Asiago and the Anglo-Italians have extended the breach in the Austrian line to south of Montello. The Italians have captured Vittorio.

American troops have engaged the Austrians east of the Piave. The tenth army, which includes the Americans, have taken prisoner a total of 10,000 men.

In Serbia the Austrians have retreated across the Danube.

45,000 AUSTRIANS TAKEN

FIFTEEN AUSTRIAN DIVISIONS BETWEEN BRENTA AND PIAVE REPORTED "IN GRAVE DANGER"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, October 31.—Serbian cavalry have reached the Danube and are within 22 miles of Belgrade. It was officially announced that the Allies in Italy have captured over 45,000 Austrians, liberated 100 towns and captured 300 guns.

Fifteen Austrian divisions between the Brenta and Piave rivers are "in grave danger," according to Rome war office advices. The Allies yesterday reconquered over a million square kilometers of territory.

FOCH'S TERMS REACH KAISER

COPENHAGEN DISPATCH REPORTS THAT ARMISTICE TERMS ARRIVED IN BERLIN TUESDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COPENHAGEN, October 31.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung declared today that Marshal Foch's armistice terms reached Berlin Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—Officials here have not confirmed the Copenhagen report that the terms of an armistice have reached Berlin, although Allied diplomats said it is possible that such may have happened.

DRIVE TOWARD GHENT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, October 31.—French and British forces attacked this morning in the direction of Ghent. The attack is making good progress.

PATRIOT GARDENS

VACANT LOT SWEET POTATO CROPS YIELDING PROFITABLE RETURNS

Crops of sweet potatoes which have been grown by patriotic citizens who responded to the urgings of Hoover and his associates in the Food Administration are now being harvested.

James Watson, who has a plantation on Howard street, consisting of forty rows 150 feet long, is digging his crop which he estimates is yielding two to three boxes to the row, the boxes averaging 40 pounds each, and the hills averaging three to four pounds. They are now worth 80c a lug box and he roughly estimates when all expenses for plants, water, labor, etc., is subtracted the field will yield him about $75. He states that one of the best ways of keeping sweet potatoes during the winter is to pack them in clean, dry sand in boxes or barrels.

W. B. Kirk, the life insurance man, appeared at the office of the Evening News Wednesday morning several inches taller than usual bearing a receptacle containing eight "Porto Rico or Yellow Yams" three of which were as large as the average small Hubbard squash. The eight potatoes weighed 9½ pounds and were the product of one hill. They were grown on the Kirk Ranch on Broadway which includes the backyard of his residence and two lots on either side. They testify eloquently to the richness of the soil and the good care they have received. Any one who wishes to see this extraordinary yield is invited to call at the office of the Evening News where it is on display.

Mr. Kirk's main crop has been his Jersey Red and other varieties of sweet potatoes of which he planted 2000 hills at the beginning of the season. They are now worth 4c per pound and will average 2 pounds to the hill or 8c per hill, a value of $160. His bill of expense runs as follows:

Plants	$8.00
Water for season	5.00
Plowing	4.00
Extra hose	3.00
Total	$20.00

which amount, when subtracted from the value above named leaves a net return, for the use of the ground (about one-third of an acre) and for Mr. Kirk's labor bestowed nights and mornings and at odd times, of $140. He is carefully curing the potatoes and believes he will be able to keep them until they are all sold at 4c per pound or a better price.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL NEEDS

Mr. Chobe, assistant health officer, reports that additional beds are needed in the emergency hospital established by the city in fire house No. 2 at Brand and Los Feliz road. Citizens who have iron beds, springs, mattresses and bedding which they will loan or rent to the city are asked to telephone Mr. Chobe at City Hall, Glendale 1300.

Seven patients are now at the hospital, for which the city makes the nominal charge of $20 a week for room, board and the attention of a graduate nurse. 51t1

REV. HUMPHREY RECOMMENDS FLOWERS.

Anaheim, Cal., Oct. 29, 1918.

Dear Mr. Sherer:

During the three years I was pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Monrovia, Cal., Mr. Montaville Flowers and family were members of my church. He has been a lifelong member of the church and a supporter of the principles of righteousness. In his many years as a lecturer on the platform, from coast to coast, he has been an advocate of the prohibition of the liquor traffic. I am satisfied Mr. Flowers would greatly honor the Ninth district in Congress, as he is a man of commanding abilities.

Truly yours,
J. F. HUMPHREY,
Pastor First M. E. Church, Monrovia, Cal.

It will be remembered that Mr. Humphrey was pastor of the First Methodist Church of Glendale six years ago.

PERRIN BOYS IN ARTILLERY

Kenneth and Linn L. Perrin, sons of W. S. Perrin, of South Orange St., offered their services for the Heavy Artillery Corps, otherwise known as the Big Gun Corps, have taken the preliminary examinations and been accepted. They were advised that they would probably be called in the course of two weeks and are expecting an order to entrain for Fort McArthur in the near future.

COMPETITIVE DRILLS

MILITARY COMMITTEE PLANS TO HAVE ALL COMPANIES MEET IN COMPETITION

Announcement is made by the military committee of the Board of Instruction that competitive drills are planned when work is resumed in the district. This will mean that the companies from outlying districts and from Glendale will be brought together in competition as to military ability and general condition. It is therefore requested that all of the men perfect themselves as far as possible in the study of the tactics in order that they may be in a position to meet their instructors on an even basis, as the instructors are all very busy with their own studies.

It is also the intention of the committee to reorganize the companies and appoint acting non-commissioned officers who will be selected from the men who have studied and who are considered to be capable of acting as instructors.

Class 1 men are urged to obtain manuals and study them as far in advance as possible. The committee will consider applications for appointments from ambitious persons and also invites suggestions from interested parties, whether in military lines or otherwise, for the betterment of the work in hand. These are especially desired from the outlying districts. Any communications in this connection will receive prompt attention if addressed to the Chairman of the Military Committee, Captain W. C. Wattles, 1218 Glendale avenue, Glendale. Tel. Gl. 398-W.

The writer regrets that the name of Captain Henry, Chief Instructor, was omitted in the report of the attendants on the meeting of the Military Committee. Captain Henry was present and offered some of the most valuable suggestions made.

For the information of registrants, the following instructions from the Manual are quoted:

55. 1 Eyes, 2. RIGHT (LEFT), 3. FRONT.

At the command right, turn the head to the right oblique, eyes fixed ont he line of eyes of the men in, or supposed to be in, the same rank. At the command front, turn the head and eyes to the front.

Facings

Raise slightly the left heel and right toe; face to the right, turning on the right heel, assisted by a slight pressure on the ball of the left foot; place the left foot by the side of the right. Left face is executed on the left heel in the corresponding manner.

Right (left) half face is executed similarly, facing 45 degrees.

"To face in marching" and advance, turn on the ball of either foot and step off with the other foot in the new line of direction; to face in marching without gaining ground in the new direction, turn on the ball of either foot and mark time.

57. To the rear: 1, About, 2. FACE.

Carry the toe of the right foot about a half foot-length to the rear and slightly to the left of the left heel without changing the position of the left foot; face to the rear, turning to the right on the left heel and right toe; place the right heel by the side of the left.

MARRIED

In La Crescenta, Wednesday afternoon, October 30th, by Rev. C. Irving Mills, D. D., William H. Connor and Miss Ina D. Ferbeck, both of La Crescenta.

Also in Los Angeles, Monday evening, October 14, by Dr. Mills, Mr. Samuel Wise Quartermous and Miss Phyllis Lucile Drummond, both of Los Angeles.

NO HALLOWEEN PARTIES OR GATHERINGS PERMITTED

Notice to the Public:

On account of the prevalence of the epidemic of Spanish influenza in Glendale, I have been instructed by the health department to permit no gatherings of over six persons in homes. This is a precautionary measure to aid in the fight against this disease, which is being waged all over the country, and I trust the public will co-operate with the authorities, and do everything in their power to assist in stamping out this epidemic.

Parents are also requested to prevent their children from forming into groups and parading the streets as is usual on Halloween, as this likewise cannot be permitted under present conditions.

GEO. E. HERALD,
Chief of Police.

THE BURLESON MESSAGE

(Published by Request)

To the Editor of The News:

My attention has been called to an article in your edition of Tuesday with regard to the Glendale independent postoffice, in which you intimate that I deceived the people in that matter two years ago for political advantage. May I say to you that the telegram which you reproduce in your issue of Tuesday is a genuine one sent by the postoffice department, which you can easily confirm by consulting the Western Union or Postal Telegraph office in Los Angeles?

Furthermore, you are well aware that the postmaster-general afterward informed me that it was impossible for the department under the law to establish a postoffice of a higher class than fourth, and that such an office cannot be provided with carriers and clerks. Of course, such an office would not be tolerated in Glendale, and you are well aware that I immediately introduced a special bill to be passed by Congress establishing an office of the second class at Glendale by giving general authorization to the postmaster-general to establish such offices in similar cases to Glendale. This bill was written by the postoffice department and was unanimously approved by the postoffice committee. You are well aware that Republican Leader Mann objected to this bill when it came on the floor of the House, because it might affect a lot of stations of the Chicago postoffice. I was careful to keep you informed of these facts.

You are further well aware that I immediately introduced a special bill affecting only the offices in the Ninth district, including Glendale, and that this bill was unanimously approved by the postoffice committee, and is now on the calendar of the House ready for action at any time that it is called up. You are also aware that there is an embargo on all legislation except war measures, and that when that embargo is raised I will call this bill up for passage.

My dear Mr. Cowan, you have been the principal agitator for this office in Glendale, and you are well aware that I have done everything that is humanly possible to secure an independent office, and that I shall succeed.

Cordially,

C. H. RANDALL.

Yes, Mr. Randall, you did deceive the people in ordering that telegram of two years ago published at a time when you (according to your own statement to me) had received a second wire from Mr. Burleson asking you not to make the announcement public. You certainly used the Burleson message for political effect.

After serving two years in Congress, you should have known concerning the steps to be taken to secure an independent postoffice. Your ignorance of the procedure is evidence that you are not qualified to ably serve the people of the Ninth district.—Editor.

SUPPORT ALL WAR MEASURES

It is the duty of every good citizen to support to the fullest extent all worthy war measures. The war now being waged against Germany is not one that is carried on by any party or sect—it is by the people—the red-blooded supporters of the flag of the United States.

On this basis we rally to the support of the President of the United States. As a leader in time of war, he is not identified with any party. Positions of trust should be held by men according to ability and not according to what political party they belong. The young men at the front belong to all political parties. They fight from the standpoint of duty and are not governed by political conditions.

Every member of Congress should back the President in all war measures, regardless of party.

ARMISTICE REQUESTS BEFORE CONFERENCE

SECRETARY LANSING REFERS PERSONAL NOTE FROM TURKEY TO THE VERSAILLES CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 31.—Secretary Lansing today forwarded a note to Turkey, saying that Turkey's note asking for an armistice had been referred to the Versailles conference. This officially places an armistice request from each of the Central Powers before the conference.

Scretary Lansing has received the official copy of Austria's personal note asking him to use his influence with President Wilson to secure an armistice for Austria.

GERMANS BITTER AGAINST KAISER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Demonstrations against the Kaiser are occurring daily throughout Germany. A crowd wildly cheered Dr. Haase, leader of the minority socialists, when he attacked the Kaiser in a speech, and many demanded the abdication of the entire Hohenzollern family.

AUSTRIAN COMMANDER ASKS ARMISTICE

LONDON, October 31.—The Austrian commander-in-chief on the Italian front has appealed to General Diaz for an armistice, it was stated on high authority here this afternoon. The request was forwarded to the inter-allied conference at Versailles.

Miss Lilian Shropshire was kept at home Wednesday by an attack of grip.

Miss Louise Robinson of Santa Monica, was here yesterday at her aunt's home, 1539 Vine street.

Mrs. R. J. Rees and her son John, of 126 South Kenwood, who have been seriously ill of influenza, are now convalescent.

Mrs. Roche and family of 415 Patterson Vvenue, are leaving Saturday morning for El Centro, where they plan to spend the winter.

Earl E. Bond of 463 Vine street, who has been very ill of influenza combined with pneumonia, is much better.

Herbert Norton, son of Mrs. Wesley Norton of San Fernando road, who came home from the oil fields and was taken sick with influenza-pneumonia, is still quite ill.

The brother of Battista Collino, an Italian grocer on San Fernando road, was taken to the emergency hospital in the Fire House of the Tropico district Wednesday. He was quite ill of influenza.

Mrs. Johanna E. Edwards of 723 South Louise street has been made happy by the receipt of a card from her son, Sergeant Clarence L. Edwards, announcing his safe arrival overseas.

Dr. Joseph Marple and Mrs. Marple of 149 W. Palmer avenue, have returned from a week's sojourn at Alpine Tavern on Mount Lowe, where they went to recuperate from "flu" of which both were victims. They are now quite well again.

Harold J. Russell and Marshall Pearson returned last evening from Brawley, where they have spent the last three weeks as guests at the beautiful home of Mr. Pearson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pearson. Much entertaining was done in honor of the young men, Brawley having escaped the prevailing epidemic. The trip was reported most delightful throughout.

Among the "flu" victims in this vicinity are L. W. Woodson and wife of 1729 Vine street, Earl Bond of 1561 Vine, who was at death's door last Sunday, but is now mending fast. Peter Pinoges, wife and two little daughters of 1565 Vine, and Newt Van Why and wife of 1542 Vine, stricken yesterday.

W. B. Kirk and wife have been grieved this morning to receive word that Paul Eldredge of South Pasadena, who was the chauffer on the pleasant trip which Mr. and Mrs Kirk took with his parents to Santa Barbara on the 18th of this month, died last night of double pneumonia. He was an only son and his father is General Agent of the Provident Life & Trust Company.

Geo. Moore and wife of 454 W. Elk Avenue, have received word from their son Arch, of Bakersfield, that his wife met with a very serious accident recently. While working in a cannery she fell from a platform, landing across a board, cutting a deep gash in the abdomen and inflicting internal injuries necessitating an operation. Mrs. George Moore goes to Bakersfield today to help nurse her daughter-in-law.

W. D. Haywood, a retired capitalist of Vancouver, with Mrs. Haywood and son Donald, who have spent many winters at Coronado, called on their way down to visit their old friends, Dr. and Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Bondaux and were so delighted with the climate of Glendale that they have taken a furnished cottage at 215 Milford street, west, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. George Hancox, whose husband is a member of the firm of Russell & Hancox, of Vancouver, accompanies them.

Mrs. Ella Harmon, of 433 West California street, had the pleasure of welcoming friends from Iowa last Monday night, viz., L. I. Calkins, who is accompanied by his wife and three daughters, Pearl, Odna and Reva, and son, R. L. Calkins, for whose health they have come to the coast. They made the journey overland in two automobiles and had a very nice trip. Mr. and Mrs. Calkins were here five years ago and liked it so well they have decided to locate here for a time and go to San Diego later. At present they are with a sister in La Crescenta.

Shirley Chase, daughter of Dr. R. E. Chase, who has been dangerously ill of influenza, is reported to be markedly better this morning and her friends hope she will make a rapid recovery.

Frank E. Buckman of Burbank has joined the Big Gun Corps, or heavy artillery. He has been a faithful worker and instructor for the Military Committee and rapid advancement was anticipated for him by that committee, which regrets very much to lose him.

NEW FIELD FOR CONSERVATION

Each day brings more forcibly to our minds the necessity for personal and national economy.

Conservation of raw material and manufactures and the elimination of wastefulness are among the principal duties of every citizen. We are all familiar with the nation-wide effort to conserve food products. Those engaged in various industries are constantly reminded of the serious meaning of conservation.

The automobile, so universally used, provides at once a great opportunity for both waste and economy. The Government has, as we all know, taken decided measures toward reducing the unnecessary consumption of gasoline. With regard to tires, however, few car owners stop to consider what a field there is here for conservation and economy. The average tire in its construction uses many yards of cotton fabric. Every tire that is successfully repaired or retreaded, thereby prolonging its life from 50% to 100%, automatically releases for still more important uses one of the most essential war materials.

This alone should be sufficient motive for giving the matter due attention, but there is a pecuniary motive, as well.

Many will claim having had very unsatisfactory experience with retreaded tires. True as this unquestionably is, there is a reason for all things. In this respect it may be said that heretofore the method used for "curing" retreaded tires was what was termed the "kettle cure," in which the whole tire became impregnated with live steam under heavy pressure.

This method, although still used by some who have not found it convenient to install the new system, was obviously defective, in that it tended toward the disintegration of the carcass of the tire. This has been one of the direct causes of the unexpected "blowouts' in tires newly retreaded.

The new system does away with this cardinal defect.

Other reasons for unsatisfactory results are: 1st, lack of judgment on the part of the vulcanizer in attempting to repair a tire that has passed its limits of usefulness; 2nd, faulty workmanship, which can be either through ignorance or indifference; 3rd, use of low grade material.

With all the above difficulties eliminated and taking into consideration that there are concerns that go so far as to guarantee their retreads from 2500 to 3500 miles against wear and even "blowout," it can readily be deducted that retreading under such circumstances should be decidedly profitable.

H. M. BUTTS,

Editor's Note—Mr. Butts has recently installed such a plant as he speaks of in the rear of the Monarch Company's store, 121 South Brand, and the work being turned out certainly looks right. Their well-established credit of doing the right thing in the right way should be of great benefit to them in this new venture and it is not amiss to suggest that the owners of automobiles in Glendale and vicinity may be decidedly benefited by patronizing home industry.

BATTLE DESCRIBED.

The following letter from Private John Gillham for which we are indebted to W. B. Kirk, graphically describes a battle, probably at St. Mihiel, and tells of the infantry following the engineers over the top:

France, Sept. 15, 1918.

My Dear Mother and Sister:

How do you like this swell German stationery which I took out of a German dugout we captured?

I guess you have been worried and wonder why I haven't written, because I remember of telling you in the last letter that we were just back from the big Champagne battle and the battle of the Marne at Chateau Thierry. I let you think that we were back for a rest and a seven days' leave, which we have looked forward to since our first four months in France, but we were only back for a short time to prepare for the drive we are now in.

I would love to tell you where we are, but as we are only back a little way from our first waive, it will be impossible until we are back and the drive is over.

On Sept. 11th we were taken in some woods just back of our first line. Our regiment was detached with three different branches. Some were put with the artillery to help them with roads and other engineering works. Dave Stilwell was with this branch. Others were put with the infantry to cut the barbed wire for them and to lead them to their respective objectives. My platoon was put with the tanks. Our job was to go ahead of them, cut down trenches which were too deep and clear and lead them.

Mother, it was wonderful. Of all the experiences I have gone through with, the "Rainbow Division" this was the best.

On the night of the 11th we were taken to within a few yards of our first line. It had been raining for days, and it was raining then. Just the right kind of weather to prepare for this drive. We were taken into a kind of cut and shelter dugout, but as the water was above our shoe tops we, five of us altogether, went outside and sat in a Dodge automobile to keep out of the rain as much as possible. At one o'clock on the morning of the 12th, our artillery opened upon the German trenches. Of course the German artillery answered back, but we felt confident we were safe so we stayed in the Dodge all night waiting for the zero hour when we were to go "over the top."

At 4:30 we were taken to our front line, which was only about fifty yards away. Then our lientenant gave the word to follow him, and over we went. The engineers who were with the infantry went over at the same time to cut the wire, but the infantry was not to start over unil this work was done, which was about five o'clock, so you see the engineers cracked the drive, first over the top.

Gee, Mother, it was wonderful! Over on the German lines our artillery was making their trenches nothing but shellholes. It wasn't light yet, so every shell that exploded made a burst of fire. Then the Americans started throwing smoke bombs in front of the German trenches. That is a beautiful sight in itself. It is a shell that when it lights it bursts into a cluster of flames, spreading over the ground from which comes clouds of smoke. This smoke hides our advancing infantry until they are right on top the enemy. When we threw these over, the Germans started throwing up star shells, rockets for a barrage, green, yellow and red. Flare after flare was sent up. We were double-timing over "no man's land" while this was going on. At last we came to a wide and deep trench, which the tanks could never have crossed, so we started cutting it down.

Then our infantry started for the Germans. You should have heard the machine gun bullets sing over our heads. It was still dawn and the enemy couldn't see us well, and I guess it's lucky, for the amount of lead they were shooting at us sure would have got us if they could have seen better. Gee, it was great, being out in "No Man's Land" just before this big drive started, then to see our infantry start over the top with bayonets raised, advancing with their steady, confident step.

When our job at this place was finished, we moved on with the infantry into the German front line which was captured with hardly any trouble Then our tanks started. We ran into a German machine gun nest which was in the edge of some woods about fifty yards ahead and down a small slope. Here we waited for some tanks to come up. When they came they stopped on top of the little knoll we were on, as if to look around and see where their enemy was. Then a machine gun opened up on them and one tank let go with its one-pounder like an angry grunt. Then down the hill they started, with us making short rushes from shellhole to shellhole. When the tanks got to within a few yards of the woods, the Germans saw there was no chance and ran out into the open with their hands up yelling "Kamerad!"

Well, all day we kept on with the tanks. The Germans would no sooner see those tanks than they would give themselves up. Mother, you should have seen the prisoners! The infantry from our division went so fast the Germans couldn't even run away fast enough. They didn't have time to blow up anything. When we came into the first town an old French family who had been held by the Germans four years, ran out into the street yelling, and seemed tickled to death. The old man didn't even know American soldiers were on the line. Other refugees came into this village from other towns as they were captured by our infantry, wheeling baby carts full of blankets and so on, shouting, "Good Americans." and "Quatre annes prisoners!" meaning "four years prisoners."

Our division finished that first day what they were supposed to have taken three days to capture.

That night we slept in a German dugout with German blankets, for we didn't bring our own with us. Before we went to sleep some of the fellows went around town and got German spiked helmets, field glasses and so on, but I was too tired and was glad I had myself left, so I just went to sleep.

I did get a German belt with a belt buckle of bronze and brass. The words are on it meaning fearless and true. It belonged to an officer. Also got a few other little trinkets which didn't amount to much.

Not long ago you spoke in your letter asking me if I knew a LeRoy Dawson, said he was a friend of a girl who now has our old house at 341. Yes, I know him well. Was in our platoon when we went over that morning. He was a corporal in the section I was in.

About ten o'clock in the morning, as we were following the tanks, we saw on the hill where we had to go that the Germans were throwing a barrage of high explosives. When we got near the top of this hill we saw a cut and shelter dugout, and as the shells were dropping all around we thought it would be a good idea to go there for a few minutes. Dawson was about six or eight feet from the entrance. I was about five yards behind him and a little to his left. I heard a shell coming, but as so many had been coming near us I didn't duck until I realized it was going to light awful close. I saw Dawson start for the dugout. I started to fall, but only got as far as my knees when the shell hit square between Dawson and myself. I thought the concussion would break my ears. I looked around, hardly realizing I wasn't hit, and saw Dawson on the ground. All of us ran to him. He sure had nerve. Gave us his hand and told us to get those Germans Then two medicals came up and as our tanks were already far ahead, we had to leave him to the medicals. Mother, I have lots to be thankful for that day! Two other shells hit just as close. One was a "dud." The other hit while we were in a trench. It hit about fifteen feet in front of us. A direct hit in the trench, but in the next bay. Dawson was a wonderful fellow. Everyone liked him. He had as much nerve as any man alive. I have been out on "No Man's Land" with him many times stringing barbed wire.

Saw Lieutenant Gay yesterday; the first time since he left our company. Would sure like to have him back, as he is one fine fellow.

I intend writing Joe Pray's mother as soon as we get back from the front. It is a shame I have not written before, as I was with Joe almost all the time, and was there when he was killed. But I have been so busy I just haven't had time.

Oh, Mother! I sure would love to be home again. Not that I would want to be there until this thing is over, for I am just as crazy as ever to see this thing to an end.

September 17th.

I have just finished supper and have heard our chaplain talk. He told us about the war in general. Talked about home, said he has read all he could of this, ever since it started "It is certainly different to read about it than to be in it. To see, to hear, and be in it all."

Well, mother, I must close, as I want to get this letter off to you tonight. We are all so dirty and have so many cooties on us we are sure crazy to get back a ways so we can clean up. I have only washed once in over a week.

I will write again as soon as possible. Take good care of yourself, dear.

Your loving son,
John.

HOME OWNERSHIP—

is the badge of Thrift, Stability, Citizenship.

WHAT'S YOUR RECORD?

If a man, say forty years old, comes to you for help, says he hasn't a friend to turn to, that's his record—40 years old, needing help and not a friend or dollar in the world.

Start today. Deny yourself temptation—forego extravagance. Don't be a four-flusher to keep up appearances—if the stakes are too high, don't play.

Build your record on a solid foundation—work, save, accumulate and OWN YOUR OWN HOME.

Have a good record ready.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

Description of Design No. 2190

We offer in this Colonial two-story a home of charm beyond its cost. Seven rooms, including a cozy den and breakfast room. The exterior is of shingles, both side walls and roof, with white paint and grey stain. The living and dining rooms are across the front downstairs and the two spacious bed rooms are in front on the second floor.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The homes illustrated here each week are selected from the designs of the Lumbermen's Service Association. Any information, floor plans or cost to build will be gladly furnished by either of the local members of this association:

The world needs the man
Who says "I can"
Not the man who says "I might."
There are things to do
And it's up to you
To do 'em and do 'em right.

The big prize goes
To the man who knows
And really knows he knows.
It's a long, hard run
But when all is done
It's the "reward of deeds" that shows.

To Succeed:

A man must be a human sponge, absorbing everything he sees, reads or hears, and his brain a thresher, separating the wheat from the chaff and storing the golden grains of knowledge in his mental warehouse.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

DO YOU KNOW?

That next Tuesday, November 5, is the day of the "battle of ballots" in California? Are you making preparations to engage in this very important battle? Before our men are allowed to engage in a battle against the Huns, they are required to go into intensive military training for several months. They must learn how to shoot accurately.

Now how is it with you, Mr. Voter? Do you know how to vote accurately next Tuesday?

There are 24 amendments to be voted on,—all of them of importance as deserving support or defeat. What do you know about them, and how do you propose to learn something about their merits? All of these amendments have their advocates and their opposers. Now it is up to you to sit on the Judge's bench and decide according to the best evidence obtainable how you shall vote on these amendments.

It is the opinion of the writer that any voter would make a sad mistake to adopt the general rule of voting "yes" on all of the 24 amendments. The mistake would be equally as great to vote "no" on all of them.

It is not the purpose of this column to argue for or against any of the amendments on the ballot, for there is not space to permit of such discussion, but the object of these lines is to awaken an interest in the minds of the voter on this very important question.

Get the views of well informed as to the merits of the amendments, and after getting these views, draw your own conclusions. Prepare yourself to be an intelligent voter next Tuesday. That is a duty you owe to your country and to your home.

I Am Home—

I am the backbone of the Nation—the mainstay of the community.

I am the most valued asset of my possessor, being a monument of achievement, a symbol of stability and a worthy reference to the world of commerce.

My association encourages permanency and purpose and incentive to systematic saving, making me the salvation of shiftless peoples.

I am the incubator of love and sentiment, a warehouse of happiness, a haven of rest for all mankind.

Furnishing protection to loved ones, entertainment to friends and harboring life's most treasured hours of recreation—I am the most coveted of all earthly possessions.

My invironment moulds the character of the children of men, giving to them untold hours of pleasurable reminiscence in years to come.

While relatively few claim title to me, I am available to all—if I exact worldly sacrifice in payment of my material value I promise to repay each inspired effort ten-fold.

I am supreme of all investment for I pay dividends daily in Happiness, Contentment and Pride of Possession, immeasurable by the Dollar Standard.

Ownership is the only key to my treasure chest and I cannot be bargained for a monthly hire.

Surround me with Happiness and Harmony and I become a Heaven of Earth for I am the fulfillment of Heart's inborn desire.

I AM HOME.

PAPER PROFITS

Every time i hear one o' these wise birds a spillin' the dope 'bout how much cheaper 'tis to rent than to buy a Home and see him provin' his argument with a pencil, I think of that old "Cat Ranch" gag. in other words he's kiddin' himself and tryin' to "bull" you, but folks it's jest like most other flim-flam games where the profits are shaders vamping your dollars, but the fruits are mostly lemons,—and not the kind we grow in California either.

Yes sir,—I get peeved a plenty a listenin' to sech nonsense and it peers to me that any man with his own quota o' common sense can dope it out for hisself and illustrate the truth with livin' examples

Fer example, jest make a couple o' comparisons with families you know that own their own home and others that are rentin'. They can be in the same class as to incomes yet after a reasonable time you can ask yourself what the tennant has accumulated that's worth half as much as the other fellers house and lot. These is facts brother, and not fancy and if you'd add to the $ and c value a fair price for contentment and happiness you won't be bothered much as to makin' a decision cause it's a clean knock-out evertime

Next time you hears some bug expoundin' that rent stuff jest whisper to him jently to tell you what he can buy with his saved up rent receipts that's half so precious as a single hour of "Satisfaction" of Home Ownership, let alone the material value o' the real property.

Uncle Dan.
